The 59 employees that make up Samara, a Catalan startup in the energy sector, have a new operations center. The company’s hub is located in Vilafranca del Pened s and will function, its managers explain, "as an operations center to channel the company’s projects in Catalonia". Samara, the Spanish solar energy startup that accompanies households in their energy transition towards a more efficient and sustainable model and which is only a few months old, has raised a new round of financing of 4.5 million euros.
